of Miss Kittle French, of Angusta, Ky., Found.

As the steamer Fleetwood was passing California last evening site was hailed by parties who had discovered the body of a female floating in the river, who, supposing it to be the body of Miss Kitty French, of Angusta, Ky., one of the victims, it will be remembered, of the terrible Magnolia explosion, wished to send word to her relatives at that place in order that they might take means to have the lady identited and properly earned for. It so happened that a brother of the unfortunate lady was a passenger on the Fleetwood, and his feelings of horror and gried, as he gazed upon the distigured remains of the beloved sister, which he at once identified, can be better imagined than described. With a heavy heart Mr. French performed the monruful duty of taking charge of the body, which will be kept at California until after the coroner holds an inquest upon it, when it will be taken to Angusta for interment.—(Cin. BLUE FOR GRANT.—The economy which the Radicals talk so much about is only on paper. They try to cover up the financial affairs of the Government, but it leaks out that there are troublesome deficiencies. In the Faymaster teneral's office it is $25,000,000, Congress carbovared to secure popularity by vostteneral's office it is $25,000,000, Congress endeavored to seeme popularity by voting large bounties to soldiers, and at the same time avoid the charge of profligacy by not appropriating the necessary finuls. Hence this enormous deficiency. The Internal Revenue department will fall tharty-five nultion dollars below Mr. Rollins' estimate. This fact hastened the Commissioner's resignation. To all this will be added a fearful deficiency in the Post Office department. Post Office department.

The dialogue on the New Munster, in which Misses Finny Fry and Katy Gwathniey took part, was well enough rendered to strike all with its vraisemblance and spirit. "Mine Pipe and Cnp," in broken English, was capitally done by Master George Yenawine. "Hunting a Wife," by Jimmy Beynroth and the young misses, was a very hunorous burlesque. The parties who were huyers at lower quotations are now unloading and supply the market freely, while some foreign bankers have been repiacing their 1868s and 1868s with ten-forties, owing to the notion, we think without foundation, that the proceedings of the National convention, to be held in this effy on July till, may be influenced by the reputed greenback opinions of Mr. Pendieton. Some of the foreign bankers are disposed to give undue importance to this greenback matter, and tear that it may depress the markets for our bonds in Europe, where it is difficult to make them understand the actual condition of ultairs and public opinion here.
